Key Digital® Systems Announces it's “Golden Key” Award Winners for 2006

Mount Vernon, NY, January 1, 2007 – Key Digital® Systems, Inc. (KDS), the leading digital video products solutions provider for custom installation and home theater dealers, is pleased to announce the winners of the “Golden Key” Awards for 2006. These awards are in recognition of outstanding performance in providing sales, technical information and service to their customers.

In commenting on these award winners, Michael Lakhter, Vice President of Sales stated, “It is only appropriate that we recognize our best business partners for their outstanding efforts during 2006. Key Digital values the strong relationships we have with our distributors, dealers and representatives and therefore this recognition communicates our thanks and appreciation.”

Through the efforts of its distributors and dealers in 2006, Key Digital now has product available in numerous market segments including Home Theater, Professional Audio/Video, Security, Home Builder and the Government. This distribution is credited to all who sell and service Key Digital products.

The Key Digital® Distributor & Dealer Awards for 2006 (including commentary by Michael Lakhter) are:

ADI National (Multiple Locations) Pro A/V Distributor: “With over 180 locations nationwide, installers can pick up the products they need every morning, knowing the products will be in stock and available for sale”

Audio Associates Corporation Home Theater Representative: “Great staff, great management, great technical training. They understand how to make dealers into loyal customers with service and support. The Rep of Reps!”

AVAD Central, Regional Home Theater Distributor: “Unprecedented grow comes from great product training, same day shipping and delivering custom installations to difficult locations”

Capitol Sales National (Single Location) Home Theater Distributor: “Their advantage over their competition comes from an in-depth technical knowledge of virtually all video and audio products and an individual and personalized customer approach to system design”

Digital Connection Online Reseller: “Strong Internet presence coupled with the best in technical customer support. They understand the needs of the DIY (do-it-yourself) installation market”

Electronic Stockroom Regional (West Coast) Home Theater Distributor: “They fearlessly jump into any new product, market or opportunity. In their first year, they sold more of our products than many distributors that have that been with us from day one!”

Mito Corporation National (Single Location) Professional A/V Distributor: “Superior technical know-how and installation of turnkey systems for both the Marine and RV industry”

Professional Audio Associates Regional (East Coast) Home Theater Distributor: “Since beginning to do business with us in 1999, every year their sales and product mix of Key Digital products continues to grow.”

Tweeter Home Entertainment Group National Specialty Reseller: “Their custom division has thrived under new management. They are becoming a national force in the custom installation market with significant growth.

Ultra Media Regional Specialty Reseller: “They specify quality products and know how to make money.”

Award plaques will be presented to all these outstanding companies during the CES Show in January 2007. Michael Lakhter added, “We are looking forward to continued growth and success with all our partners in 2007.”
